A Broken Down System.
There is a disease to which the doctors give many names, but which few of them understand. It is simply weakness---a breaking down of the vital forces. Whatever its causes (and they are innumerable), its symptoms are in the main the same. Among the most prominent are extreme lassitude, loss of appetite, loss of flesh, and great mental depression. Indigestion as a Stomach Cough are also frequently concomitants of this distressing state of body and mind. The common remark in relation to persons in such a condition is, that they are consumptive. Now, what these unfortunates really want, is vigor---vital strength, and as certainly as dawn succeeds darkness they can recuperate their systems and regain perfect health by resorting to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. It is as clear that a life-reviving Tonic is required in such cases, as that the dying flame of an empty lamp requires to be revived with a new supply of oil Perfectly pure and innocious, containing nothing but the most genial vegetable extracts, and combining the three great elements of a stomachic, as, alterative, and a general invigorant, Hostetter's Bitters are suitable to all constitutions, and are as applicable to the diseases and disabilities of the laboring man as those of men.

Hostetter's Bitters

United States Treasury Notes---Important Decision.
NEW YORK, March 16.---An important decision on the subject of the value of United States Treasury Notes, making them equal in every respect to legal tender, payable in coin or its equivalent denomination in gold, has just been rendered by the General Term of the Superior Court. The agreement in this case was to pay freight in gold or silver, on the delivery of the cargo in New York. The plaintiffs, John Wilson & Co., owners of the British ship Atlanta, in June, 1865, chartered the vessel to Gillander, Arbuthnot & Co., of Calcutta, and the cargo was consigned to Edwin D. Morgan and others, of this city. The vessel arrived in June, and the freight money, amounting to $52,650.00, was tendered in Treasury notes. The offer was refused and payment in specie was demanded. This was refused, and the controversy carried to the Superior Court, and the decision written by Judge Morell lays down the law to be that a debtor can be satisfied by a tender of payment in United States Treasury notes. Former adjudications have merely established that contracts made before the passage of the act of 1862, and calling for payment in the legal currency of the country, could be satisfied by payment in United States Treasury notes.

Cases of Alleged Disloyalty Before the U. S. Supreme Court---The Bonded Warehouse Bill Approved.
WASHINGTON, March 16.---The United States Supreme Court now have before it for argument, the cases of Father Hamilton, a Roman Catholic priest, who was convicted by the Circuit Court of Pike county, Missouri, for preaching treason, and who has taken his appeal without the oath prescribed by the second article of the new constitution of the State, and fined $200 with imprisonment until paid; and of Mr. Cummings, a lawyer, who was excluded from the practice of his profession by the supreme Court of the State, because he would not take the oath.

The judgment in the Dr. Cummings case is having been affirmed by the Supreme Court of Missouri, both cases were brought up on a writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The President has approved of the act concerning the withdrawal of goods from bonded warehouses.

Matters in Canada---Less Fenian Excitement---The Confederation Question.
NEW YORK, March 16.---The World's special from Montreal says: There is less excitement, though preparations to resist an attack are actively proceeding. A cabinet council was held, and presided over by the Governor General, during which telegrams were received from the Governors of Maine, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The first announced that a resolution, endorsing confederation, had passed the Upper House of the Legislature unanimously, and a similar result expected in the Lower House. Another dispatch expressed the belief that the measure is sure of success in Nova Scotia.

Powder in private magazines had been ordered to be removed to St. Helena Island, which is strongly fortified and commanding the city. The Spanish Authorities Hoaxed.
NEW YORK, March 16.---An amusing account of a hoax practiced upon the Spanish authorities a few days since, with the connivance of the Chilian Envoy in this city, is published. A letter purporting to be intended for the Chilian Minister at Buenos Ayres, and bearing the initials of Senor B. Vienna Mackenna's signature, was dropped in the street at a point where two Spanish spies were passing. They picking up the letter concerning the movements of imaginary Chilian privateers solved the mystery of the sudden departure of the two Spanish war vessels, the Carmen and the Isabella La Catholica, from this port. The excuse to the Spanish Government of the fool's errand upon which these vessels were dispatched, owing to the ruse played by the Chilian Envoy, is estimated at thirty thousand dollars.

President Johnson Officially Notified.

ABDUCTION OF COLORED PERSONS.

WASHINGTON, March 16.---Baron Beaulieu, Envoy of the King of Belgium, delivered to President Johnson to-day the notification of the death of Leopold First, and the accession of his son, Leopold Second. He dwelt upon the interest with which this country had been watched by Belgium, and hoped for the continuance of friendly relations.

The President replied in terms complimentary to Belgium. He said we should ever respect the rights of Sovereign States, to be exempt from foreign intervention or dictation. We seek to illustrate how a people can be free, and by their own strength maintain their independence; how they extend commerce, and yet how they abstain from aggression; how, without forming entangling alliances, a nation can co-operate with nations in advancing the great interests of civilization, and how nations from time to time become persuaded of the wisdom of referring to just and peaceful arbitration, controversies that otherwise must necessarily be referred to it all by force.

He predicts anarchy, ruin and denouement to Mexico if Juarez is replaced, and probably war with France also.

XXXVIIth CONGRESS---FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, March 16, 1866.

SENATE.

Mr. Wade presented a petition for equal rights and the abolition of all distinctions on account of color by the constitutional amendment, which was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Sumner presented the petition of the dressmakers of New York and Brooklyn complaining of the injustice of the tax upon their business, which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Sumner also presented two other petitions, one for equal rights and one for a provision for the execution of the President of the United States by the popular vote.

Mr. Norton presented a memorial for a modification of the tax on railroad iron, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Guthrie presented a claim for services rendered by five regiments of Kentucky home guards, called into service on the occasion of General Morgan's retreat from Cumberland Gap, which was referred to the Military Committee.

On motion of Mr. Chandler, Thursday next was set apart for the consideration of the bills from the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution providing that the act entitled an act supplementary to several acts relating to pensions, approved March 3d, 1865, shall not hereafter be so constructed as to deprive invalid pensioners or the widows and heirs of any person who has served in the army or navy during the late war of the pensions which they are entitled by reason of holding any office under the Government, provided that the compensation received from the United States as pay or salary does not exceed $600 per annum. Referred to the Committee on Pensions.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution appropriating $50,000 for the publication of the medical and surgical history of the war of the rebellion. Referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Harris, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported back with amendments the bill to reorganize the Judiciary of the United States.

A number of the amendments are in the form of additional sections, incorporated in the body of the bill.

Section Six provides that executions may be issued out of any District Court, to collect any judgment or decree in the Circuit Court for such District, with the same effect as such executions may be issued out of the Circut Court.

Section twelve provides that to render an appeal from the District Court to the Circuit Court effective for any purpose, a bond shall be executed, on behalf of appellant, to the effect that the appellant will pay all costs and damages which may be awarded against him on the appeal, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars. If the appeal be from a judgment or decree directing payment of the money, it shall not stay the execution, unless a bond is given that it the appeal is dismissed the amount of the judgment shall be paid, such bonds shall be of no effect unless the sureties make affidavit that they are worth double the amount specified, over and above all liabilities; in other words, a stay of execution may be granted upon such terms as any judge of court may prescribe.

Section Thirteenth provides that cases pending in any Circuit Court on the said first day of September, upon an appeal or writ of error, shall be transferred to the proper Court of Appeals, and shall be heard and determined by such Court, according to the provisions of this act. In the original bill July 1st is stricken out wherever it occurs and September inserted.

In section nine the following words are inserted "the amount claimed or the value of the property in controversy exceeds $300, and in other cases, the District Judge shall certify that the adjudication involves a question of general importance. Such appeal shall be taken within ninety days after the entry of the judgment or decree sought to be reversed." A great number of verbal and minor amendments were also reported.

Mr. Poland introduced a bill to fix the salaries of the District Judges of the United States, which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary. It gives five thousand dollars per annum to the Judges of Massachusetts, Southern New York, Maryland, Eastern Pennsylvania, Eastern Louisiana, Northern California, Oregon and Nevada, and to those of all other Districts, four thousand dollars each.

Mr. Stewart introduced the following joint resolution, which was referred to the joint Committee on Reconstruction:

WHEREAS, In the present distracted condition of the country, it is eminently proper and necessary that all just and constitutional means should be employed for the quieting of the popular excitement, the removal of unreasonable prejudice, the obliteration of all hostile feelings growing out of the late unhappy civil war; and,

WHEREAS, Among the most prolific sources of unfriendly sentiment is the conflict of opinion existing on the subject of negro suffrage; and

WHEREAS, It is now most evident that there is no probability, whatever that the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the States recently in rebellion after the insurrection will be allowed to occupy the seats to which they have been elected until such States shall have complied with certain fundamental conditions, a portion of which are hereinafter recited; and

WHEREAS, It is unreasonable to expect the re-establishment of harmonious relations in as long as eleven Southern States, whose people were recently in insurrection, are prevented from resuming their ancient relations to this government; therefore be it

Resolved, 1st, That each of said States, whose people were lately in insurrection, as aforesaid, shall be recognized as having the right validly resumed its former relations with this government, and its chosen Representatives shall be admitted into the two Houses of the National Legislature, whenever such State shall have so amended its constitution as to do away with all distinctions as to civil rights between the various classes of its population, and to guarantee to all persons the equal protection in the civil rights of life, liberty and property, and to secure the elective franchise to all persons upon the same terms and conditions, making no distinction in respect of any other qualification than the entire confiscation of all their property, and were perfectly satisfied to be let off with their lives. Then they were the most loyal people you ever saw. Before the war, because they knew that they had justly merited any punishment the government might see proper to inflict on them, but now how changed. Instead of submitting to the new policy of the Government! These people are led to believe that the United States government intends to humiliate them. In consequence is that they are now as defiant and blustering as ever. Union men here have told me that the feeling of bitterness against the Government is greater now than it was during the war. In fact there is no safety here for life or property, outside the immediate vicinity of the troops, and it is getting worse every day.

Resolved, That in view of the thorough assimilation of the basis of suffrage in the various States of the Union, all other States not above specified shall be respectfully requested to incorporate an amendment in their State constitutions respectfully responding with the one specified.

Resolved, That in the adoption of the aforesaid recommendation it is not intended to assert any coercive power on the part of Congress in regard to the regulation of the right of suffrage in the different States of the Union, but only to make a suggestion which it is hoped will meet their own good sense and love of country with a view to the prevention of the serious evils now threatened, and to the peaceful perpetuation of the Union and true glory of the whole American people.

Mr. Stewart, in offering the above, made a brief explanation. He said he had been a careful observer of the current of events since Congress assembled, and he had come to the conclusion that the proposition he had submitted contained the only healing measures in the public press. He offered this without expressing an opinion as to the propriety of negro suffrage, which he had studiously avoided on all occasions in the past.

Mr. Pomeroy asked Mr. Stewart if had not once said something about its being a white man's government?

Mr. Stewart replied that he had only stated that the fact of this being a white man's government was not to be scoffed at or disregarded, and he still said so.

Mr. Stewart continued his remarks on the resolutions. He said he did not pretend to be wedded to the particular provisions of what he had submitted, but believed the proper provisions. He wanted the South to have an opportunity to vote upon it. When they refuse that, it will be time enough to answer other propositions. He said until they do refuse, he thought it unjust to take from them the right to decide for themselves. He would state, furthermore, in presenting this proposition, that he found it to be in accordance with letters written on the 15th of August last, by the President to Gov. Sharkey, which he was authorized to say was genuine, as published in the newspapers, and he had no reason to believe that the President had changed his views, since the letter was presented to the Mississippi Convention for the reason that it refused to receive communications from Gov. Sharkey, so that the question never was presented to the people of that State or any other State. The President felt himself bound, authorized to submit the question to the people. He thought the President did not feel authorized to demand as a condition, because it was not one of the issues of the war. It was a question outside, upon which the people of the South had no opportunity of passing.

Mr. Williams, of Oregon, was glad to see such a proposition coming from Mr. Stewart, and he would inquire of Mr. Stewart whether if the Committee of Fifteen reported a plan of reconstruction providing that proposition, if he, Mr. Stewart, would vote for keeping the Southern representatives out of Congress until that plan was adopted.

Mr. Stewart said he would vote for the proposition he had offered, if reported by the Committee.

Mr. Sumner---I rise to welcome in the Senate from Nevada, Mr. Stewart, a new convert to the necessity for colored suffrage on this floor. I have maintained that colored suffrage was the only guarantee for future peace and security for the country. I have insisted that it was a necessity and that without it your National debt is imperilled, your freedom will be in constant jeopardy, this Republic cannot enjoy permanent peace; and, sir, I welcome with open arms the Senator from Nevada. (Great Laughter.)

Mr. Wilson---I desire simply to say that I thank the Senator from Nevada for offering this proposition. I have no doubt it will receive the favorable consideration of the Committee to which it has been referred, as well as of the Senate and of Congress. I am in favor, for one, and I believe the country is in favor of settling this whole question on the basis of universal liberty, universal justice, universal suffrage and universal amnesty.

Mr. Henderson said he was under some obligations to the Senator from Nevada, and he desired to express them. He stated that shortly after the date of the letter of Governor Sharkey, the President had expressed the views contained in that letter in a private conversation, so that if the advocacy of negro suffrage made a man a radical and a Jacobin and a fanatic, he wanted the country to know that the President was a radical.

The resolution was ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

The Deficiency Bill, which was under consideration yesterday, was taken up at one o'clock.

Mr. Grimes moved an amendment which was adopted, appropriating $178,000 to supply the deficiencies in the last appropriation for the support of the Naval Academy. The bill then passed. It goes back to the House for concurrence in certain amendments. The Naval Appropriation Bill was then taken up. Mr. Grimes, of the Naval Committee, offered a number of amendments, among them for the purchase of the Governor's residence at Annapolis, $450 000; for the erection of a building for the third and fourth classes at the Naval Academy, $10,000, which were adopted. Also an amendment repealing all acts authorizing the appointment of navy agents, which was adopted, for the erection of a foundry at the naval academy as appropriation of $20,000, for continuing the work on the boiler shop in the New York navy yard, $10,000.

Mr. Sumner offered an amendment as an additional section, that the examination of candidates for the Naval Academy shall be held at such time as the Secretary of the Navy may direct. The bill was read three times and further consideration postponed for the present.

On motion of Mr. Grimes it was ordered that when the Senate adjourned to-day it adjourned to meet on Monday next.

On motion of Mr. Sherman a bill providing for the annual inspection of the Indian affairs was taken up and read. Pending its consideration the Senate went into executive session, and soon after adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Price, of Iowa, asked leave to offer the following resolution:

WHEREAS, A difference of opinion and conflict of views exists between the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency, which has assumed a shape calculated to injure the financial interests of the country; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of three members of this House be appointed to investigate the cause of the difficulties and report to the House.

Mr. Boutwell objected, unless the resolution was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. His objection to withdrow his objection and the resolution was again read.

Mr. Kelsey, of Missouri, introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of ocean mail steamship service between the ports of Charleston, South Carolina, and Liverpool, by way of Queenstown, Great Britain, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Post Offices.

Mr. Taylor, of New York, introduced a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Secretary of War to communicate to the House relative to the purchase of the steamship Illinois, also, the names of the appraisers appointed by the Quartermaster-General and the Secretary of War.

Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, asked leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Claims to inquire what disposition should be made of the publication called the Annals of Congress, deposited by Gales and Seaton, under an alleged contract with the House, and to determine whether the same, or any part of them, shall be retained, and at what price they shall be paid for.

Mr. Wilson objected.

Mr. Dawes presented the papers in the contested election case of Fuller against Dawson, which was referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Hays, of Ohio, introduced a joint resolution constructing the 4th section of the army appropriation bill, for the year ending June 30th, 1866, so as to entitle to three months pay provided for therein, all officers of volunteers below the rank of Brigadier General, who were in the service at least three years, and whose resignations were presented and accepted after the surrender of Lee, April, 1865, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The Speaker proceeded to call the Committees for reports of a private character.

Mr. Thayer, from the Committee on Private Land Claims, reported back an act authorizing documentary evidence of titles to be furnished to the owners of ancestral lands in the city of St. Louis. The bill was passed.

At the expiration of the morning hour, there being no business on the private calendar, an unprecedented circumstance, the House resumed the consideration of the loan bill.

Mr. Pike said he would offer an amendment to the bill, providing that any bonds issued hereafter, except those issued in accordance with the existing obligations, should be subject to the same State and equal taxation as other property of like value.

Mr. Washburne, from the Committee on Commerce, reported back adversely the bill making appropriations for the Custom House and Warehouse in Jersey City, and a bill to provide for the construction of a Custom House, Postoffice and Court House, at the city of Cairo, Illinois. Both bills were laid on the table and the reports ordered to be printed.

Mr. Garfield addressed the House in advocacy of the loan bill.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Disloyalty in Texas.
We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter written by a Pittsburgher to his mother, who resides in the Sixth ward. The letter is dated Austin, Texas, March 1st, and shows that that State is not ready for secession yet. It may be proper to state that the author of the letter was several years in the Potomac army, and was then rather "conservative."

"I agree with father in every word he says in regard to the folly of Mr. Johnson's reconstruction policy. If he were here and saw the working of this policy, he would be ten times more radical than he is. I don't care how many favorable reports General Grant or any other General he may make. The whole South being anxious to return to her allegiance to the Government, they are not true. The people of Rebeldom are more rebellious and bitter to-day than they were one year ago. I'll tell you why. When they were thoroughly whipped, they were satisfied to have peace on any terms, and did not expect anything short or than the entire confiscation of all their property, and were perfectly satisfied to be let off with their lives. Then they were the most loyal people you ever saw. Before the war, because they knew that they had justly merited any punishment the government might see proper to inflict on them; but now how changed. Instead of submitting to the new policy of the Government! These people are led to believe that the United States government intends to humiliate them. In consequence is that they are now as defiant and blustering as ever. Union men here have told me that the feeling of bitterness against the Government is greater now than it was during the war. In fact there is no safety here for life or property, outside the immediate vicinity of the troops, and it is getting worse every day.

"The Convention has been in session now for nearly a month and has not done any thing. It has not even repealed the ordinance of secession. Some of the members openly say that Texas can maintain her own independence. If this state of things is permitted to go on, before four years we will have another war."

We are sorry we have not room to give additional extracts from this interesting letter.

Soldiers League---Endorsement of Geus, Geary and Negley
At a regular meeting of the soldiers' League, held in the Firemen's Association Rooms last night, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It is our duty, in time of peace in common with our fellow-citizens, to preserve inviolate the rights and liberties which we contended for in the time of war, to promote and cherish national honor between the States; to preserve and maintain constitutional law and order, and to foster brotherly kindness toward each other;

AND WHEREAS, The same has been permitted us to see and feel that republics are not ungrateful by the public care taken of the soldiers' widows and children, by preferring to office those who have served well their country, and by promoting to office our worthy fellow soldiers; therefore

Resolved, That we hail with joy the nomination of Maj. Gen. John W. Geary for the office of Governor; that as he has proven dauntless, loyal and true in the field, so will he prove when in the Executive Chair, that in his nomination we gratefully recognize the faithful performance of the promises made and redemption of the pledges given.

Resolved, That we hail with joy the popular will, consistent with the public good, we heartily and cheerfully commend to the voters of the 22d Congressional district, the name of Maj. Gen. James S. Negley as a candidate for Congress. Like Gen. Geary, he was among the first to take active part in the late rebellious struggle, and by his gallant and able military training on the plains of Mexico, Chattanooga, Chickamauga and Dutch Gap gave evidence of his skill, daring and valor in the field, as did Nashville of his judgment, prudence and executive talent; in the council, of his patriotism, loyalty and adherence to the best interests of the people. Let the past speak, and if the public verdict be in accordance therewith, we have no fear of the future.

It is a melancholy, this last, and contains the names of nearly 13,000 soldiers who perished at that infamous place. The books can be seen at this office.

SUSPENSION OF HABEAS CORPUS.

When, during the progress of our late war, it became necessary, in the judgment of the authorities, to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, the British public, through all the regular agencies for expressing opinion, gave vent to the most violent indignation. The suspension was denounced as a measure of despotism without warrant in the practice of modern nations claiming advanced civilization, and as the first of a monstrous series of measures under which popular institutions and personal freedom would alike be demolished.

It is possible such apprehensions were really entertained by a good many people. In periods of profound excitement, and especially when traditional animosities are fully aroused, things are easily seen that have no existence, and things which do exist are seen under such lights as to take on an aspect altogether illusory. Whatever perils are before this republic; through whatever ordeals it may yet be called to pass; this may be safely said, that none of the formidable evils predicted in consequence of the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, or of any other of the severe measures necessitated by the war, have been experienced. Popular government still remains, and loyal citizens are as secure in the possession and enjoyment of their rights, in all the regions not involved in the revolt, as they were ten years ago.

The wheel of destiny has revolved. In all the loyal States of the Union the writ of habeas corpus has been restored. In Ireland it has been suspended, by act of Parliament. What is more, this measure of repression meets the warm approbation of the masses of the British people. They seem to have not the remotest idea this suspension of the great writ is perilous to any individuals except conspirators against the peace and order of the realm. Indeed, it is confessed, on all hands, that a feeling of relief ran through the community when Parliament sanctioned the suspension. Nothing is more natural. War has its own methods, not less than peace has its methods; and when war actually transpires, or is felt to be approaching, the staidest populations as promptly resort to war measures as the most impulsive and inconsiderate.

Nor is this the only way in which the British, just now, reject those inculcations of moderateness which they obtruded upon us. In their dealings with the Irish they accept the doctrine that treason is the greatest of crimes, and ought to be punished as such. No weight is given to provocations, real or imaginary, to treason. Whatever pretences or facts may be alleged to justify it, are allowed no consideration. The authority of the crown is menaced; the quietude of society is threatened; the dismemberment of the realm is impending; and nothing further is essential to warrant a resort to any measures that may be needed to obtain the old order of affairs.

But let no one suppose this experience will lead England to treat the United States, in case of future intestine difficulties, with either magnanimity or justice. She has had these same experiences, over and over again, without changing her temper or deportment towards other nations when involved in corresponding troubles. She has one rule by which to measure others, and another rule by which to direct her own conduct; and these rules are oppugnant and contradictory. She sees the discrepancy as distinctly as it is seen by other nations or individuals, and is not ashamed On the contrary, she rather delights in it. A peculiar satisfaction animates her at condemning in others what she indulges in, upon system, herself. That is, she measures her virtue by her professions, and excuses her departures therefrom, in practice, by the deplorable hardness of her fate.

THE ARMY BILL as it passed the Senate on Wednesday last, provides for a standing army consting of five regiments of artillery, twelve regiments of cavalry, and fifty regiments of infantry. Eight of the infantry regiments, and, in accordance with an amendment proposed by MR. WADE, two of the cavalry regiments, are to be composed of colored men. An infantry regiment has, beside the officers, 500 privates, which number may be increased at the discretion of the President to 1,000.

With the exception of the colored regiments, the sixty-four regiments of white here provided for will consist mainly of officers. There will be skeletons of companies for these officers to command, but nothing more. In a country like this, where labor is remunerative and laborers in demand, men cannot be found to fill up sixty-four regiments in the regular service. It never was a popular service, so far as the rank and file are concerned, and in the nature of things it cannot be. To provide, therefore, for such a large establishment in outline, without any prospect of filling it, seems like a mere scheme to afford comfortable places for a small army of officers. When the regiments of the present regular army are filled up with recruits (and that will be a long while hence) it will be time enough to talk of increasing the number of regiments.

GOV. HUMPHREYS, of Mississippi, in a recent letter, which he signs as Governor of that State, endorses a movement for the collection and preservation of the records of the Confederate army, in which he calls for the preservation of documents or "details of robberies, conflagration and vandalism," "to be transmitted to posterity in vindication of the truth of history and the rectitude of our (the Confederate) cause." This HUMPHREYS being what is considered a "loyal" man at the South, we suppose the first thing the "loyal" men whom he represents will demand, when they get control of the National Government, will be an acknowledgment from the North that it was wrong in putting down the Confederate cause, and an expression of penitence for having done it.

THE President gave it out, the other day, that Louisiana was more loyal to-day than she was before the war. Right upon the heels of this declaration comes the election of MONROE, an out-and-out Secessionist as Mayor of New Orleans, by a heavy majority. So strong is the evidence of this man's disloyalty that the President, according to the New York Times, at once ordered the Governor of Louisiana to quash the election.

AS WE HAVE stated before, the resolutions of our State Convention excite admiration and approval among loyal people throughout the country, and they have given to the Republicans of Pennsylvania a much higher position among their fellow-loyalists of the nation than they ever enjoyed before. They were mainly from the pen of Hon. THOMAS E. COCHRAN, of York, and reflect the highest credit upon his ability and patriotism.

Our Harrisburg correspondent, writing on the day of the Convention, spoke of the dim shadow of a fear that was felt by many in the Convention, before the resolutions were reported, lest they might not come up to the mark. This fear did not originate from any want of confidence in or suspicion of any member of the committee which was appointed to frame a platform, the chairman of which was known to be a thorough Radical; but grew out of the fact that the temper of the Convention had not yet been tested, and no one knew how far the spirit that manifested itself in New York might prevail there. Such a feeling was natural, under the circumstances, and it was dissipated the moment the reading of the resolutions touched the key-note that was in harmony with the sentiments of every one there. The platform introduced the members of the Convention each to the other, and then every one saw how idle had been the fears that prevailed before they thus knew each other.

WAR DEBTS OF THE STATES.—In a report submitted to Congress Pennsylvania is set down as having a war debt of $53,000,000. The only war debt contracted by this state was the $3,000,000 war loan, and that is in course of extinction. Philadelphia borrowed some few millions to pay bounties; but the people of the state generally raised from among themselves, by taxation, the money necessary for that purpose: so that although the sum of $53,000,000 was undoubtedly spent in raising troops to fill the quotas of the State, it is not in any sense a debt. The State is in a better financial condition, to-day, than before the war, with less debt and with better means for paying rapidly what she owes, and that too, without resorting to direct taxation.

THE RESPONSE.—We have now received responses from every Republican paper in the State to the nomination of General GEARY, and without a single exception that nomination is responded to with a heartiness zeal rarely, if ever before, witnessed in Pennsylvania. The tone of the papers is not formal or constrained, but bears every evidence of genuine good feeling and sincerity. Nay more. The campaign has been actively opened at once, all along the line. There has been no waiting or hesitancy; but with a unanimity and a determination that augurs victory the enemy has been attacked at all points without the slightest show of wavering or weakness.

A WORD OF ADVICE.—A few papers in the country, with a sycophancy that seems natural to them, make daily thrusts at FORNEY, imagining that they can crush that individual and so conciliate the President. To all such we take the liberty of saying that JAMES BUCHANAN quarrelled with FORNEY and did not make anything by it. For years the presses in the interest of the then President kept up a personal warfare on him, which resulted only in seeing him victor, in the end. If those who are now repeating that experiment are of the class that can learn from experience they may live to thank us for recalling that fact to their notice.

THE Chicago Times says that Judge PATTERSON, son-in-law of President JOHNSON, and the United States Senator elect from Tennessee, recently made a speech at a Democratic meeting in Berks County, Pennsylvania. He was announced to make a speech at that meeting, but didn't do it. The spirit was willing but the flesh was weak.

THE important statement is said to come through Montgomery Blair, that Secretary WELLES has given assurances that no man at the navy yard of Portsmouth, N. H., shall be turned out for voting the Democratic ticket. If they escape being turned out for not voting if they will be lucky.

IT is a significant comment upon the reputed loyalty of North Carolina that the honest, peaceful, loyal Quakers of that State are compelled to emigrate to the North because of the hostility shown them by the North Carolinians on account of their devotion to the Union during the war.

THE call for a Convention in Kentucky on the 7th of May, to form a new party pledged to the support of President JOHNSON, is backed up only by the Louisville Journal clique. The old-line democrats intend to hold a Convention of their own on the 1st of May.

THE New York Evening Post calls for the expulsion from the Senate of Saulsbury, of Delaware, for his drunkenness. He was so offensively drunk, on Wednesday, that the Senators had to eject him from the hall.

THE democrats say that Gen. GEARY is just the man they wished us to nominate. Oh, yes! We always nominate the man they prefer.

WE are indebted to Hon. THOS. WILLIAMS for a copy of CARL SCHURZ' report on the state of the South.

THE Republicans carried Camden, N. J., at the election on Tuesday last by 250 majority.

AN ALARMING FACT.—Intelligence was received yesterday at the rooms of the American Seamen's Friend Society, that a few days since a vessel on which they had placed one of their sailors' libraries, had been boarded in an Irish port by an English detective, who insisted upon examining the craft. Coming upon this library, he took down a book here and there, and finding one named Alarming Facts, at once turned to the Captain and demanded to know who was in charge of the library. Upon being told, he ordered the sailor under arrest, and kept him in confinement for twenty-four hours. Then the facts were investigated by higher authority, and the sailor-boy was released. Perhaps when the scare is over these Englishmen will be ashamed at some phases of the panic into which they have been thrown.—N. Y. Times

IN the progress of the Gee trial at Raleigh, North Carolina, David S. Miller, of New York, testified:

"I heard Major Gee make the remark, that they could kill them (Yankees) off faster there than they could in Lee's army—this conversation was between the 1st and 24th of October—am not positive as to whom this was said, but I think to a brother of his, but I am not certain—it was in his room at headquarters—my room was next to it."

THE French iron-clad men-of-war are declared to be useless at sea. Their guns cannot be manœuvred and fired except on smooth water, and they can only be employed for harbor defense. Their cost has been about $20,000,000—probably about half what the United States have spent for monitors and other armored vessels. In our case, too, the result is about the same. The ships are good for coast defense, but it is not believed that they can be advantageously employed for fighting in the open sea.

"NO MATTER how unpleasant the thought may be, it is nevertheless true that the peculiar flavor which has made the hams of Westphalia so celebrated, is due to the number and the character of the snakes upon which the hogs are fed and fattened. Nature seems to have supplied that district with the particular kind of snake upon which pork growers may fatten hogs with a flavor that has attracted the taste of epicures the world over.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE fur companies formerly sent from St. Louis two boats each summer up to the Rocky Mountains, to supply their trading posts, and bring back the accumulation of furs and peltries, and the Government sent one to take out the Indian annuities. Now no less than seventy-five steamers are advertised to leave during the month of April. Immense quantities of goods and groceries are being purchased to go the mountains this season.

THE new residence of General Grant at Washington, is one of a block built some ten years ago by Senators Douglas, Rice and Breckinridge as their metropolitan residences while in office. Government has used the whole block as a hospital during the rebellion. The house adjoining General Grant's belongs to Alfred Lee, a sagacious and highly respectable colored man, flour dealer, and reported to be worth $200,000.

Two "reconstructed" military gentlemen, one of whom formerly served under Morgan, fought a duel at Point Chicot, Arkansas, a secluded spot on the Mississippi river. The weapons used were bowie-knives; Major Burns was wounded in the arm, but contrived to cut off his opponent's (Colonel Zuvman's) nose, slash his face fearfully, and finally put out one of his eyes. Then he was satisfied.

IT is reported that George Bent, a half-breed son of one of the Bents of the mountains has been elected war chief of the Cheyennes, Arrapapoes, and other prairie tribes, and that he is preparing to take the field against the whites. Notwithstanding his Anglo-Saxon blood, Bent is said to be a bitter enemy of the whites, and, as he is brave and daring, trouble may be expected on the plains.

THE number of pardons that have been granted by the President to persons in the States below named, under the thirteenth exception of the amnesty proclamation, is as follows: Kentucky, 12; West Virginia, 48; Arkansas, 41; Missouri, 10; Virginia, 2,070; North Carolina, 482; South Carolina, 688; Florida, 38; Louisiana, 142; Georgia, 1,228; Alabama, 1,361; Mississippi, 765. Total, 6,835.

ALBERT PIKE, the rebel poet and Indian fighter, is at Little Rock, and evidently still very unhappy. A correspondent of the Lawrence Tribune says he recently heard him declare that "all efforts at republican government recorded in history were signal failures; that ours was the most complete failure of all, and the sooner the free government humbug was played out, the better."

THE RINDERPEST.—The theory that the Rinderpest [pronounced with the i short, as in sin,] is like small pox, and may be controlled by vaccination, is losing ground in England. The London Times says: "We have reason to know that the experiments made under the Cattle Plague Commission on the protective influence of vaccination against the cattle plague, have shown that this protective influence does not exist.

CONVICTED OF SELLING LOTTERY POLICIES.—Frank J. Monaghan has been convicted in Philadelphia, of selling lottery policies. The prisoner had a license under the internal revenue law, but as the State of Pennsylvania prohibits lotteries, the court decided that the Government license was of no avail. The Government only intended to put a license tax on lotteries in States where lottery dealing was legal.

IT IS STATED that an Austrian decree, ordering that all the children of the public schools in Bohemia, henceforth, will be obliged to study the Bohemian language, has caused large masses of the German population to sell their real estate, and emigrate to the neighboring German Provinces. Others are preparing to emigrate to the United States; in general, the emigration to this country during the present year will reach unprecedented proportions.

A LATE English work on diamonds and other precious stones, says that but a small portion of the gems sold and worn are genuine. The diamond mines of Golconda have given out, and those of India are rapidly failing. The scarcity of real gems has been met by the ingenuity of counterfeiters, who manufacture spurious gems that frequently deceive expert connoisseurs.

THE total number of children between the ages of six and twenty-one years, enumerated for school purposes in Indiana is—males, 283,833; females, 268,441; total, 552,-244. The amount collected for school purposes during the past year was $397,742 77, of which there has been expended the sum of $386,254 13.

A WESTERN soldier, who has been through all the campaigns and shared in many of the fiercest battles of the war, writes from his home that "he never realized the horror of war till he got home to Indiana, and found his girl married to a stay-at-home dry goods clerk."

A NAPLES letter-writer says that several Roman Catholic priests have declared their intentions of marriage, under the new law which makes marriage a civil rite, and that one has already been united to a lady of Naples. The writer thinks this example will be somewhat extensively followed.

TREASURE TROVE.—In Marylebone County Court, in England, it has been decided that if a railway passenger find a purse or watch or trinket, or any similar article for which, if lost, the railway company would not be responsible, he has a right to retain it against all the world excepting the right ful owner.

THE San Antonio (Texas Herald is charmed with the serene peace that prevails in that city: "With the exception of fifteen or twenty fights and the exchange of a few friendly shots, without any unfortunate results, nothing of moment has happened for two days."

THE Gainesville Era thinks that Florida will soon have a superabundant population, as emigrants are pouring in from all parts of the world. It bids them welcome; and assures them of a kind reception—particularly if they bring money.

B. M. HARRISON, of Terre Haute, Ind., and his brother, residing in New Jersey, have recently been notified that by the death of a wealthy relative in England, they have together inherited the sum of $6,259,000, which they have divided equally between them.

A HOUSE worth twenty-five thousand dollars has been presented to General Sherman, in St. Louis. It is situated on Garrison avenue, near Franklin, and the lot is eighty-four feet front by a depth of one hundred and fifty feet.

THE Old Hunkers of New York have raised $180,000 to tempt Henry Ward Beecher to leave Brooklyn and preach Conservatism to them. That is what comes of his keeping bad company.

THE New York Tribune is of the opinion that the party that held a State Convention in Pennsylvania when Lee was on the soil of the State, "and didn't call on the people to rally to defeat and expel him, isn't going to win."

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Considerable solicitude is felt by the Church generally in regard to providing men and means for the work opening in the South. Those denominations that have commenced already operations have found their way embarrassed on account of the lack of both these essential elements to their success. Gradually the field is developing and opportunities are presenting themselves, that will absorb a large sum of money and require a large force of ministers and teachers. It is believed that many of the students in Theological Seminaries are likely to devote themselves to the foreign missionary work. This is well, as the field is great and the harvest is ready for the reaper. But the main portion of students will doubtless enter our home work. In view of this fact we call attention to the Macedonia cry coming from Missouri, pleading for young men to think of their wants. The Presbyterian, referring to the subject thinks, that if a band of young men would enter the work in Missouri in the spirit of an entire and absolute consecration to the work of preaching the gospel of Christ, would do more for the cause of Christ and his Church during the next five years than they could possibly effect in any other field which they could select. The Pittsburgh M. E. Conference, at its recent session, in view of the pressing wants of Missouri, consented to the transfer of several of its members to labor in that field.

—Under the rule of the O. S. Presbyterian General Assembly, a Presbytery has been organized by the missionaries in Brazil, and called the Presbytery of Rio de Janeiro. On the next day the Presbytery ordained to the full work of the ministry, St. Consolen, the ex-priest who has been associated with the missionaries for some time.

—The Friend, a new monthly, has recently beenstarted in New York. It is published in the auspices of the Friend Association, in that city. It rightly seeks to introduce and encourage the spirit of progress among the Quaker congregations. The Friend says: "A few years ago, a highly respected Friend was removed by the Monthly Meeting of New York, for having a piano in his house." The Independent commens thus: "Now, we wonder what the 'Monthly Meeting of New York' think of the 13th Psalm, 'Praise Him with a harp.' A piano is only a harp in a box."

—The Christian Union Association will hold teir first series of Conferences in Philadelphia, on Monday, the 19th inst The Rev Dr. Vermilye, of New York, and representatives of every Evangelical denomination are expected to participate.

—The Christian Register (Unitarian) gives the following paragraph in reference to the wants of the South: "We want not antiquated spinsters nor ancient ministers, creed-bound all only anxious lest the doctrines of fiery wrath and indignation be not sustained; nor selfish men who can make more money than at home."

—It is a lamentable fact that but few rich men know how to dispose of their wealth aright in accordance with principles of Christanity and their obligations as stewards of what they hold in trust. A wealthy Englisman, Samuel Morley, M. P., has shown a spirit of liberality that is commendable. Some time since he agreed to give $3000 to aid in the erection of twelve English chapels, or $2,500 to each. These are undr way, and will be finished this year. Ie now offers to do the same for twelve more.

—The Independent very properly thinks that the means of grace if used with earnestness, can never be used in vain. God delights n hearing the voice of humble prayer. The very heavens bow down to a bending people. In nothing is diligence so sure of a return as when exercised in religion. No means are so unfailing as the means of grace.

—It is well known that the Rev. Dr. Cumming, of the Roman Catholic Church, who recently died in New York, was a great lover of music. Just before his death, he said to a friend it would soon be over with him, hit added, "come to the funeral, the music vill be splendid."

—A sage writer in one of the Southern papers interprets Providence thus: "Two things are manifestly made known. The first is, that the mission of the great American is not yet fulfilled. The second is, that African slavery has fulfilled its providential ends."

—Intelligence from Rev. C. H. Doering of Berlin, one of the missionaries of the German Methodist Mission Conference, reports that the mission work has spread into Saxony and Pomerania. They are intending to build two churches in Saxony this year.

—The revival in Rev. Mr. Cuyler's church in Brooklyn, N. Y., still continues. Next Sabbath, says the Independent, one hundred and twenty men members will be received into church fellowship. Of this number about fifty are heads of families.

—Mr. Seward, it is said, introduced Bishop Staley to the President of the United States, thus: This is Bishop Staley. He has come here to get some American clergyman to help him annex the Sandwich Islands to Great Britain.

—A correspondent of the New Orleans Christian Advocate thinks a thousand churches were burned during the war of the rebellion.

—The Methodist Christian Advocate at Cincinnati reports within five weeks over 10,000 additions to the Methodist Church within the bounds of its circulation.

REDUCTION OF COAL FREIGHTS.—The Reading Railroad Company has reduced its tolls on coal from $3,50 to $2 a ton, an important concession, and the tolls of the Schuylkill Navigation are proportionately reduced. It is thought that coal can be furnished to retail customers in this city, all profits incluided, at from $6,50 to $7 per ton. —Phil. Inq.

THE Queen of Spain announced last year that all native Africans found in her possessions would be returned to Africa. As most of the slaves in Cuba are of this class, the order issued by the Captain General of that island to have all such at once brought to Havana, has caused a tremendous panic among the slaveholders.

MR. RUFUS L. LORD, from whose safe in New York, a million and a half dollars in government securities were taken last week, is eighty-four years of age, and had become careful and careless in regard to his papers. His safe was an old and very rickety one. The robbers left over a million dollars worth of railroad securities in the safe.

A GLASS factory has recently commenced operations at the city of Lasalle, Ill. It at present employs about forty hands, but is soon expected to become much more extensive. The peculiar quality of sand from which glass is made is quite abundant in that vicinity. The glass works are located near the Illinois Central Depot.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AYER'S PILLS—Are you Sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? Have symptoms often risen to serious illness. Some of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood and thus ensure soundness of health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and deranges its natural functions. These, if not relieved, reach upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is here said so apparent in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous disorders to the same purgative effect applied as that caused by similar obstructions and derangement of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Colic, Diarrhœa, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Worms and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

The Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,
For the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Bumfever, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, caused by the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the disease without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the west, try it and you will endorse these assertions.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY, March 16, 1866.

Gold has undergone but little change since yesterday, fluctuating in New York between 130 and 131. Government bonds firm, while local stocks generally are quiet and unchanged.

—There is much complaint (says the Philadelphia Ledger) that the Secretary of the Treasury exercises the privilege of secretly selling gold from the Treasury in unlimited amounts. The advantage of the practice is that it realizes a greater amount of greenbacks than could be obtained through public sales. If is, however, questionable whether the practice might not lead to great speculations, probably corruption and ultimate loss. It is suggested that the sales should be public, weekly, at a stated time and place, to the highest bidder; and the amount to be sold to be neither increased nor diminished except on due public notice. It is a well-known fact that gold is a commodity in which there are large speculations, and the power in any one person to put millions of it on the market at pleasure is certainly dangerous. While gold is necessary for the payment of customs, a just regard for business interests requires that it should be left as free from the fluctuations of the market as possible.

—Many persons are not aware of the fact that, as gold declines, legal tenders steadily appreciate in a constantly augmenting ratio, or rather their rate of appreciation steadily increases. We will explain: Gold at 130 cents makes a legal tender worth 76-92c; at 125c the legal tender is worth 80c, which is an appreciation for the note of 3.08c. Gold at 125c makes the legal tender worth 80.33c, which is an advance of 3.33c for the reduction of gold 5c from 125 to 120c. We have, consequently, 0.38c as the appreciation of the legal tender for the decline of gold 5c between 130c and 125c, and an appreciation of it in the sum of 3.33c for the decline of 5c between 125c and 120c.

—The buyers of United States 7-30 per cent Treasury bonds should bear in mind the reserved option of the Government on the third series of duly 15, 1865, to pay the interest at the rate of six per cent in gold, in place of 7.30 per cent in currency. The second and first series have no such option attached. We remind parties interested as holders or buyers, of the distinction, in view of the possibility that even the next 15th of July interest on the third series may be paid at the rate of six per cent, should gold continue to decline to 125@129 per cent by that time.

—Mr. Sherman's joint resolution, referred to the Senate Finance Committee yesterday, will tend to establish confidence in the minds of those who are apprehensive lest the Secretary of the Treasury may rush to rapidly to a specie basis. There is no reason to believe that Mr. McCulloch will do anything to which serious objection can be taken, and Mr. Sherman's action is not suggested by a lack of confidence in the judgment of the Secretary of the Treasury. There are many, however, who think that a statute defining the extent and power to contract would have a wholesome effect upon the public mind, and therefore Mr. Sherman's resolution, which provides that the aggregate outstanding United States notes not bearing interest, and including fractional currency, shall not be diminished below $400,000,000. It also provides that a surplus in the Treasury exceeding $40,000,000 in coin, and $10,000,000 in currency shall be promptly applied to the payment of accruing indebtedness, and to the purchase or payment of interest-bearing debt of the United States; but the amount of interest-bearing legal-tender notes shall not be diminished by payment or conversion at a rate exceeding $4,000,000 per month. This joint resolution is to remain in force one year after its passage.

—The present depreciation of gold is producing, as a matter of course, a gradual decline in the prices of certain commodities. This condition of affairs should not be taken as an favorable omen of our monetary condition. As the gold premium declines, the intrinsic value of our currency appreciates, and this is the consummation that all wished for when gold was quoted at one hundred per cent premium. Now that this favorable result is being brought about, it is looked upon with pretended fear and distrust in certain circles. We say pretended, because the argument of ex parte argument will convince sound financiers that the decline in gold can possibly be the precursor of financial disaster. A sudden contraction of the currency, brought about by legislation, might lead to serious disturbances; but nothing of the kind is going on at present. Our national finances are in a more prosperous condition than the most sanguine anticipated at the close of the war. The Government incomes are exceeding the expectations of the head of the Treasury Department, and the annual interest on our public debt has already begun and will be rapidly continued.—Chicago Tribune.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 16, 1866.

There is no improvement to note in commercial matters, and the complaints of our merchants generally about dull times, are loud and bitter. Notwithstanding they are willing to sell cheap for cash, and to reliable customers, no objection to allowing sixty or ninety days time, yet both retailers and consumers are buying very sparingly, as the impression prevails, that values will and must still further depreciate.

GRAIN—There is no demand for Wheat, and the market is dull and prices nominal. Barley is quiet and dull—last sales reported, 75c for Spring, and 90c for Fall. Oats dull but unchanged; sale of 400 bush at 42; small sales at 43@45. Rye nominal at 73@75. No movement in Corn.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and prices remain unchanged at $8½ for spring, $9@9½ for half Spring and half Winter, and $10@10½ for all Winter. Rye Flour is dull at $7@7½—small sales of Cornmeal at 75c per bush.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull but unchanged; small sales at 14@14½, for Shoulders; 16@17 for Ribbed Sides; 18@22 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is firm at 16½ for prime kettle. Mess Pork is held at $28@29 per bbl. Dried Beef, 23.

SEEDS—Clover seed is dull, with small sales from store at 6½@6¾. Timothy is selling at $3@4. Flax Seed is wanted by crushers at $2.90@2.80, which is all it is worth in the east.

BUTTER—Is in good demand, and prime roll sells readily on arrival at 40@42, and choice would bring 45—supply very light.

EGGS—Very dull, and fresh packed cannot be quoted above 20 per dozen.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged at 20 to 21 for common Ohio, and 23@24 for Goshen.

HAY—Baled Hay is exceedingly dull, with a supply considerable in excess of the demand. Loose is selling from sales at $15 to $20 per ton, the latter figure only for prime Timothy.

SUGAR—Is steady; sales of 100 hhds Western, on track, at 8c. Prime Orleans selling from store at 10½@11.

MILL FEED—Is in fair demand, and sales of car seconds, at 35 sts per cwt.

POTATOES—A little dull but unchanged; sales of 200 bbls at $3.50—in sacks at $1.15@1.20 per bush.

CRANBERRIES—Sale of 10 bbls cultivated at $18 per bbl.

OIL—No. 1 Lard, city make, is quoted at $1.75, while Cincinnati brands are held at $1.80@1.85.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples are in fair demand, with sales at 14@15c—the latter figure for prime York State. Peaches are dull and nominal at 15@20, for quarters and halves.

ASHES—Firm but unchanged and stocks light. Sales of common Sosa Ash at 9, and Pearls at 12.

PIG TAD—Is quoted at 9c per lb.

COAL—Sales reported at $2.75 per bbl.

GREEN APPLES—Sales at $8@9 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 16, 1866.

CRUDE—The transactions in the to-day were very insignificant, amounting only to one hundred barrels, and the market is unsettled, and somewhat excited, with very strong pressure, both to break it down and keep it up. Sellers are still holding off in the hopes that prices will go still lower, while holders, apparently, do not seem disposed at present to make any further concessions in order to effect sales. Quotations may be fairly given at 13 to 13½ for "heavy" gravities, and 11½ to 12 for "light," excluding packages, and there is no disguising the fact that buyers generally prefer paying for the latter grade of crude, for reasons already noted in these columns. The arrivals, as yet, are light, but it is said that large amounts are willing to come forward, and it is likely that the receipts within the next ten days will be heavy.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil does not improve—not that there is any failing off in the demand, but prices are being reduced daily. For example, we hear of it being offered to-day for May delivery, in Philadelphia, 42 for June, and 41 for July, which shows a deprecation in value of from two to three cents per gallon since the early part of the week. On Thursday there was a sale of 1500 bbls for June at 45, while to-day the best offer we could hear of was 42. We can report a sale of 100 bbls light straw to white—mad a day or two since but not before noted—at 40 cents, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia. Free Oil is dull and entirely nominal.

NAPTHA AND RESIDUUM—There is no demand whatever for either of these articles, and, in the absence of sales, we omit quotations.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of Crude by the Allegheny river since our last report, were as follows:

Fisher & Co.	214	J. Gallagher	150
H. McKelvy	50	W. P. Logan	558

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—The cattle market is very dull this week, and prices are rather lower. About 1500 head arrived and sold at from 15@16c for fair to good, and common at steers, 13@14c for fair to good, and common at 10@12c per lb, as to quality.

Hogs—Are scarce, and prices 50c the 100 lbs higher; 1400 head sold at the different yards at from $13@15 the 100 los net.

The "Trichina" Humbug.

The fact that some half dozen persons in Europe have been attacked with a disease which some savans have ascribed to diseased pork, is receiving more consideration from the public than it is entitled to. In the cases referred to, the chief complaint was that the pork was not sufficiently cooked. Now vegetable as well as animal food, if improperly cooked, is detrimental to health; there are ten cases of disease arising from vegetable food, to one caused by animal food. Potatoes, unless properly cooked, are to some extent poisonous in their nature. Pork is the most healthy animal food next to good beef. Mutton and veal are much less digestible, and it is in the experience of every one that they have caused aggravated illness. The good health of our armies when living in camp, fed almost exclusively upon pork, is a just testimonial to its healthiness as an article of food. Therefore, people may dismiss their fears and cease to aid the speculators who are making money by means of the excitement that has been created. We never had better corn with which to fatten hogs than this year, and the prevailing distrust is absurd.—N. Y. Times.

RIVER NEWS.

ARRIVALS.

DEPARTURES.

Leni Leoti	Hamilton	Parkersburg.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.

Pine Grove	Anawalt	Cincinnati.
Forest City	Gordon	Parkersburg.
America	Golding	New Orleans.

RIVER, WEATHER, ETC.

The river was about stationary at this point last evening, with twelve feet full in the channel. The weather has become raw and unpleasant, with indications equally favorable for rain or snow.

Business operations on the wharf continue very much restricted, and what is worse still, the prospects for any immediate improvement are not at all encouraging. There is an over supply of tonnage and a great scarcity of freight, and steamboat matters generally look discouraging, and steamboatmen feel discouraged. Boats frequently have to wait from three to four weeks before their turn comes to load, and it then takes from ten days to two weeks to pick up a trip.

The Revenue, from Portsmouth, and the Julia, from Zanesville, are the only arrivals we have to report from below. The Peerless arrived from Oil City. The Nora, from Cincinnati, and the Importer, from St. Louis, are due here between now and Monday.

The Leni Leoti cleared for Parkersburg, with a moderate trip. The Forest City, Capt. Gordon, is the regular packet for that point to-day, leaving promptly at 11 A. M.

In the Allegheny River trade, there seems to be a falling off in business, and the packets are arriving and departing with rather slim trips. This, however, will improve when the oil business improves, which it is to be hoped will not be deferred much longer.

The staunch and reliable America, Capt. T. H. Goldsmith, has her carpenter about completed, and if the weather is favorble to-day, she will leave for New Orleans this evening.

The Pine Grove, Capt. Anawalt, will positively leave for Cincinnati this evening and the Camelia, Capt. Lytle, will be ready to clear for Nashville at an early day next week.

The Savanna, Capt. Jolly, is filling up steadily for the Upper Mississippi, and will be ready to take her departure shortly.
